

East Quad

East Quad is the first TU Dublin building that you reach after alighting from the LUAS at the new Broadstone plaza that connects to the University via an open, paved walkway.

As a new home to TU Dublin's Arts disciplines, East Quad will cater to 3,500 students and 160 staff covering the areas of Media, Social Sciences, Creative Arts, and Music & Drama.

The building has an impressive range of facilities. Aside from its suite of classrooms, workshops, studios, and informal learning spaces, East Quad also boasts a 400 seat Concert Hall, a Black Box theatre, a Recital Hall, and a café. The open and inclusive design that runs through the building, with large and spacious atriums, helps to connect the different learning areas in a bright and welcoming environment.

KEY FACTS:

- 16,500m²
- 5 floors
- Designed by
AHR Architects
- Built by SISKFCC
- Completed 2020

East Quad