TU DUBLIN SUSTAINABILITY STATEMENT GOOD HEALTH, WELL-BEING & COMMUNITY

TU Dublin is committed to protecting and enhancing the health and well-being of our University community and wider society by enabling people to achieve their full potential. The 2025 Limerick Framework for Action sets out the role and responsibility of Higher Education in the promotion of Health in relation to the interdependency of human health and planetary wellness. As a signatory to Ireland's Higher Education Healthy Campus Charter, we commit to taking a 'whole of campus approach to creating a learning environment and organisational culture' to ensure health and well-being within our community. TU Dublin commits to working across the University through an open, inclusive, and participatory network of people to inform the development and implementation of a Healthy TU Dublin Action Plan. Working closely with TU Dublin researchers we develop policies and practices for our priority actions including physical activity, tobacco, and mental health.

The intersection of Health & Well-being with the creation of more Sustainable and Liveable Cities & Communities is recognised and supported by TU Dublin as a place of learning and work for more than 35,000 people throughout the Dublin region. In our commitment to reduce Scope 3 greenhouse gas emissions, TU Dublin will increase its engagement and action research initiatives to promote active travel and Smarter Travel for Campuses programmes through advocacy and awareness building to encourage increased levels of walking, cycling and public transport ensuring safe and equal access by persons with disabilities, to promote good health, reduce carbon impact, and create a community culture for sustainable transportation.

Foreword

“As the Vice President for Sustainability at TU Dublin, it gives me great pleasure to present the 3rd TU Dublin Healthy Campus Cookbook publication. Healthy Campus is a University-wide initiative supporting our community of students and staff to achieve UN SDG 3 'Good Health & Well-being'. TU Dublin Healthy Campus is working to bring you sustainable initiatives that can make a real difference to our lives, communities and the planet. I hope you enjoy this wonderful range of creative green cuisines from the students and staff in TU Dublin for a healthier and more sustainable diet.

Meet the Design Team

As a member of the Societal Engagement Amplification Team, Paul works closely with the Healthy Campus project to enable them to co-ordinate and promote their campaigns and activities. The Healthy Campus Cookbook is part of a Societal Engagement Sustainability Action Lab collaboration with Healthy Campus and the third-year students from the Human Nutrition and Dietetics Programme.

Paul worked closely with the students and academic staff from the Human Nutrition and Dietetics Programme to collate the recipes and information required for the cookbook. He was also responsible for overseeing the design work as well as the printing of the cookbook with print partners Anglo Printers to bring the project from concept to finished product. We hope that the reader enjoys the recipes and will be inspired to try them.

He brings a strong interest in consumer experiences and a passion for creating meaningful engagement through marketing strategies.

As a member of the design team for the Healthy Campus Cookbook, Izu contributed to the visual design and layout of the project, working closely with students and staff to transform the cookbook from concept to completion. He also supported the coordination of content and design elements to ensure the final product is clear, engaging, and accessible for readers. He hopes to further his career in marketing after graduation, continuing to develop his skills in creating impactful experiences.

Introduction

Welcome to the Third Edition of the Healthy Campus Cookbook!

Following the success of previous volumes, we are delighted to once again showcase the creativity and passion of our university community through delicious recipes in the Healthy Campus Cookbook. This collection is far more than a list of ingredients, it is a celebration of how simple, affordable, and sustainable choices can nourish both ourselves and our planet.

This project is part of the Sustainability Action Lab Programme and has been developed with the invaluable contributions of some of our third-year Human Nutrition and Dietetics students. Their dedication, combined with the fantastic recipes shared by TU Dublin staff and students, has brought together a diverse range of dishes which are nutritious, budget-friendly, and easy to prepare. From quick, nourishing breakfasts, to budget-friendly meals and tasty treats, these recipes demonstrate how small changes in our cooking habits can support better health and a healthier environment.

Building confidence in preparing our own meals empowers us to make informed choices about what we eat, reduce waste, and embrace a more sustainable way of living. Whether you are a confident cook or just beginning your cookery journey, we hope this book serves as inspiration to try new ingredients, experiment with flavours, and enjoy the process of creating good food.

John Core, Sodexo Culinary Nutrition Lead, has over two decades of experience in professional kitchens, he specialises in making nutrition accessible and practical for modern working lives. His work focuses on reformulating classic dishes to enhance their nutritional value while maintaining flavour, texture, and appeal.

John holds a First-Class Honours MSc in Applied Culinary Nutrition from TU Dublin and leads culinary nutrition initiatives for Sodexo, supporting corporate clients across Ireland and the UK. He designs workplace wellness programmes, delivers seminars on evidence-based nutrition, and develops innovative, nutrient-dense recipes for private healthcare and contract catering. His philosophy promotes real food without restriction, guiding individuals towards sustainable, balanced eating habits.

The Healthy Campus Sustainable Cookbook is an example of how collaboration enhances the practical application of academic work, engaging the wider TU Dublin community through this Students Learning with Communities (SLWC) project to produce a healthy and sustainable initiative. The cookbook is a collaborative project with five 3rd year students from the Human Nutrition and Dietetics Programme at TU Dublin completing the cookbook as part of their third year project, with submissions provided by TU Dublin students and staff. The Cookbook was awarded a “Best Practice” award by FISU International Healthy Campus. We hope you get to try and enjoy some of the recipes for a healthier and more sustainable lifestyle.

Dr Teresa Hurley

As a registered dietitian, I believe cooking is one of the most valuable life skills we can develop. It is far more than simply preparing meals. Cooking builds confidence, creativity, and independence, and it empowers us to make thoughtful decisions about what we eat. Developing practical cooking skills also helps reduce food waste and supports a more sustainable way of living.

The TU Dublin Sustainable Cookbook aims to inspire students and staff to build their confidence in the kitchen, explore new techniques, experiment with flavours, and enjoy the process of preparing and sharing good food. Having been involved in this initiative since the beginning, it is rewarding to see the cookbook continue to grow with each volume.

My sincere thanks to everyone who contributed their recipes, ideas, and enthusiasm to make this third volume possible. May it remind us that healthy and sustainable eating is not about perfection, but about making small, positive choices that together create meaningful change.

Head of Dietetics and Nutrition, and Sport Sciences

Recipe Analysis

NUTRITION

The recipes submitted by students and staff for this cookbook were analysed using Nutritics food data management software to give a nutrient breakdown per serving of each recipe.

Nutritics provides automatically generated traffic labels for each recipe to highlight the amount of fat, saturated fat, sugar and salt per serving. The colours green, amber and red indicate if the food serving contains a low, medium, or high quantity of these nutrients. This traffic light system can also be seen on many prepackaged food products. As high amounts of these nutrients are bad for health, it is important to cut down foods with red labels. Amber indicates that the food isn't high or low in the nutrient and is an acceptable choice most of the time, while green indicates that the food is low in the nutrient. Keep an eye out for recipes with more green lights for a healthier option.

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

Fruits and vegetables are essential in our diet and provide us with vitamins, minerals, fibre and antioxidants which help protect against various diseases. In general fruit and vegetables have a lower environmental impact than meat, dairy and processed foods. Thus, choosing plant-based meals more often can help to reduce your carbon footprint. It is also important to note that often fruits and vegetables can be shipped from thousands of miles away and thus increase carbon emissions. To reduce our carbon footprint, we should try and choose local and seasonal produce where possible, to ensure that we reach our 5-7 servings of fruits and vegetables/day while reducing our carbon footprint. Check out our 'what's in season' section to see when different fruits and vegetables are in season at different times of the year. Frozen or tinned fruits can be an effective way to reduce your waste.

PLANT PROTEINS

Did you know that, in Ireland in 2023, the Agriculture sector was directly responsible for 37.8% of national greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions - that's more than transport and energy industries combined (EPA). A vegan diet can help to reduce carbon emissions, however, in recent years the flexitarian diet has become quite popular and for some people is a sustainable approach to reducing meat consumption. This diet focuses on the use of plant proteins to provide our protein requirement. It is centred around fruits, vegetables, grains, and legumes, while allowing for meat occasionally. We can get protein from plant-based foods such as peas, beans, nuts, soya, mycoprotein and lentils.

PLANT-BASED IRON

Red meat is an umbrella term for commonly eaten meats like beef, lamb, and pork. It is a good source of protein, iron, B vitamins, and zinc. However, red meat is the food with the highest carbon emissions per serving, meaning that it doesn't support planetary health. As part of a balanced diet, reducing your consumption of red meat is a good place to start if you're looking to reduce the carbon footprint of your diet. Instead of eliminating red meat from the diet, you can include eating other nutritional dense foods such as lentils, tofu, eggs, beans, spinach, and fortified breakfast cereals. Eating these foods alongside foods containing vitamin C is crucial as the body doesn't absorb iron from non-meat sources as efficiently. Vitamin C can be found in fruits and vegetables. Give some of our delicious, nutritious, sustainable recipes a try!

SOURCES OF CALCIUM

Dairy products are important for providing calcium for strong bones and teeth. However, the production of dairy has a harsh effect on the planet. Some other sources of calcium we can incorporate in our diet alongside dairy include calcium-set tofu, broccoli, cabbage, sesame seeds, tahini, pulses, fortified bread, fortified breakfast cereals and dried fruit. It's important if choosing a plant-based milk instead of cow's milk to make sure it is fortified with calcium. To ensure adequate calcium absorption it is important to include vitamin D in our diet through eggs, oily fish and fortified breakfast cereals. In Ireland during our winter months, we don't get enough sunlight, and it is recommended that every adult supplement with 15 micrograms/day from Halloween through to St Patrick's Day. Some groups benefit from taking the supplement all year around, such as pregnant and breastfeeding women, people who have reduced sunlight exposure, and people with darker skin as it takes longer to generate vitamin D from the sun.

CARBOHYDRATES

Choose wholegrain and wholemeal varieties of bread, pasta, rice and cereals. Wholegrain/wholemeal products contain fibre, this helps to keep us fuller for longer, reduce constipation and protect against bowel cancer. It is important to know our portion sizes for carbohydrates to prevent overconsumption. The food pyramid is a helpful guide for us to use and navigate portion sizes.

FOODS HIGH IN SUGAR, FAT AND SALT

These foods should be kept to a minimum, not eaten every day and enjoyed in moderation. Managing our portion sizes helps to prevent excess consumption and extra waste.

PREVENTING FOOD WASTE

One of the easiest ways to reduce your carbon footprint is to reduce your food waste. Having a set out meal plan can help to avoid unintended food waste, buying only what you will eat before it spoils. Checking what you have at home first before you go shopping can help to avoid accidental double-ups and give ideas for what to buy to use up existing ingredients and reduce your overall food shopping costs. Making a shopping list, is a simple and effective way to avoid overbuying of unnecessary food products that may go to waste. Storage and freezing can be used for storing foods that you don't plan on using straight away after buying or to store leftover meals for a later date. Composting food scraps and using them to help your garden grow. Be open to new meals in the kitchen, e.g., making additions or substitutions to meals to use up food items while they last and reduce food waste. This can even help to add more variety to your meals and increase the nutritional content. Using up as much of the food as you can, for example with correct washing of carrots, there is no need to peel, all it will do is take away the extra added fibre.

What's in Season?

CARBON FOOTPRINT RATING

Each recipe was analysed using the My Emissions free food carbon footprint calculator which gives an estimate of carbon emissions per serving as well as a carbon rating from 'A', Very Low carbon footprint, to 'E', Very High carbon footprint.

ALLERGENS

Recipes were also analysed for food allergens. If you have a food allergy, please consult the allergen icons before trying out any of our recipes.

Note: Only allergens Nutritics deemed as present were included. Allergens that recipes 'may contain' were not included. Please take necessary precautions when cooking the following recipes if you have a food allergy. Prawns are a crustacean, however, please be aware if you have a Mollusc allergy as the Molluscs allergen is denoted as a prawn icon.

Brekky Pancakes

INGREDIENTS

- 100g cottage cheese
- 100g porridge oats
- 2 eggs
- 50ml milk
- 2 tbsp sugar
- 1 tbsp milled flaxseeds (optional)
- 1 tsp vanilla
- ½ tsp baking powder
- dash of salt
- 2 tsp oil or butter

STEPS

1. Add the cottage cheese, porridge oats, eggs, milk, flaxseeds, baking powder, vanilla, sugar and salt into a blender. Blitz until a smooth thick batter is formed.
2. Heat a little of the oil or butter in non-stick frying pan over a medium heat.
3. Add a few tablespoons of the batter to the pan to make small pancakes. Cook in batches if needed.
4. Cook the pancakes for 2-3 minutes until bubbles come to the surface and the top looks set. Flip and cook for another 1-2 mins until golden brown on both sides. Keep the pancakes warm while you cook the remaining batches.
5. Serve the pancakes with some fruit and a drizzle of syrup, if desired.

Tip: Greek yoghurt or skyr is a great alternative for cottage cheese!

Bran Muffins

INGREDIENTS

- 1 cup of wholemeal flour
- 1 cup of bran
- 1 cup of sultanas
- 2 tbsp wheat germ
- 1 tbsp sesame seeds/linseeds
- ½ tsp baking powder
- 1 egg
- ¾ cup milk
- ½ cup vegetable oil
- Few drops vanilla extract

STEPS

1. Preheat oven at 190 degrees.
2. Place 5 bun cases into tray.
3. Combine the dry ingredients in a large mixing bowl.
4. Combine all the wet ingredients, add these into the dry ingredients.
5. Place equally in bun cases.

Better than your Oats

INGREDIENTS

- 40g porridge oats
- 250mls milk
- 1 tbsp chia seeds or flaxseeds

STEPS

1. Add 40g porridge oats to a saucepan with the liquid of choice, and sprinkle pinch of salt. Bring to a boil and simmer for 5 minutes, stirring occasionally so it doesn't stick to the bottom of the pan. Alternatively, you can try this in the microwave on high for 3-5 minutes using a microwave-proof bowl. If the mixture is too thick, you can thin it with more milk or water.
2. For serving, top the porridge oats with the chia or flaxseeds, pumpkin seeds, dates, dark chocolate, nuts, or nut butter.

Tip: Play with the toppings to suit your own personal preferences- no nuts for allergies!

Cookie Dough Overnight Oats

INGREDIENTS

- 2 tbsp peanut butter
- 1 tsp sugar (optional)
- ½ cup Greek yogurt
- ½ tbsp chocolate chips
- 1 cup porridge oats
- ½ tsp cinnamon
- 1 cup milk

STEPS

1. In a small bowl, stir together the peanut butter and sugar if using until well combined.
2. Add 1 tablespoon of the Greek yogurt and beat until well combined and the mixture starts looking a bit like dough. Stir in the chocolate chips.
3. Divide the cookie dough between two cups, pressing down into the bottom. Spread 1/4 cup of Greek yogurt on top of each cookie dough layer.
4. In the same bowl, mix the oats, cinnamon and the milk and stir. Divide the oats between the two cups and leave in the fridge overnight.

Tip: You can leave out the sugar if you want, the chocolate chips are already quite sweet

Homemade Bagel

INGREDIENTS

- 6g active dry yeast
- 19g caster sugar
- 300ml warm water
- 440g flour/bread flour
- 6g salt
- Optional toppings:
cream cheese,
smoked salmon, or avocado

STEPS

1. Pour sugar and yeast into 120ml of the warm water.
2. Mix flour and salt in a bowl.
3. Add the yeast mixture and another 80ml of the warm water.
4. Mix and add the remaining 100ml of the water as needed.
5. Knead dough for 10 minutes until smooth and elastic.
6. Place in an oiled bowl, cover and rest until doubled in size. Punch down and rest for another 10 minutes.
7. Divide the dough into 8 pieces and shape into balls. Use your finger to make a hole in the middle.
8. Rest the bagels for 10 minutes, while you preheat the oven to 220 degrees and get a large pot of water to the boil.
9. Reduce the heat to a simmer. Use a slotted spoon to place the bagels in the water, boiling them for one minute on each side.
10. Optionally, you can add toppings such as sesame seeds after boiling them.
11. Transfer the bagels to a lined baking tray and bake for 20-25 minutes.

Spinach and Potato Tortilla

INGREDIENTS

- 4 potatoes
- 3 medium eggs
- 2 tbsp vegetable oil
- 2 onions
- 2 handfuls of spinach
- ground pepper

STEPS

1. Using medium heat, add 2 tbsp vegetable oil to the pan.
2. Add the thinly sliced onions and slices potatoes to the pan over medium heat. Placing the lid on, cook for 5 to 10 minutes, stirring regularly.
3. Season with pepper.
4. Crack the eggs into a bowl and whisk with a fork. Season with pepper.
5. When the contents of the pan are cooked, add the spinach and the beaten eggs.
6. Cook for at least 5 minutes, using the spatula to create a curved edge.
7. Turning down the heat slightly, if necessary, cook for a further 5 minutes to ensure it is fully cooked.
8. Cut the tortilla into wedges and serve alone or alongside other available options which you might like to use up e.g. spinach or mixed salad leaves.

Tip: Modify the tortilla as you wish to include ingredients from your fridge

Chicken Quesadilla

INGREDIENTS

- Leftover roast chicken
- Cheddar
- Red salsa
- Tortillas

STEPS

1. Heat a pan over medium and place a tortilla in it.
2. Add fillings: sprinkle cheddar cheese, then chicken, then a little red salsa.
3. Fold or top with another tortilla and cook until the cheese melts and the bottom is golden.
4. Flip, cook the other side, then slice and serve.

Tip: Serve with side of avocado

- 20g fresh coriander
- 60g spinach
- Juice of ½ lemon
- 1 tsp cumin
- ½ tsp salt
- 2 tbsp olive oil
- 1 roll of ready-made puff pastry
- 100g grated cheddar
- 1 egg

STEPS

1. Preheat the oven to 200 degrees fan and line an oven tray with baking paper.
2. Toss the coriander, spinach, lemon juice, cumin, salt, and olive oil in a blender and pulse until smooth.
3. Beat the egg in a separate bowl.
4. Roll out the puff pastry sheet (depending on the brand, it might need to rest at room temperature while you make the chutney). Spread the chutney over the puff pastry, leaving a strip free at the top edge.
5. Sprinkle the cheddar over the chutney and brush the empty strip with the beaten egg.
6. Roll the puff pastry away from towards the empty strip – it should look like a big Swiss roll. Cut it into about 8-9 slices, lay on your tray and brush the cut side of the slices with the rest of the egg.
7. Bake for 30 minutes (but check along the way so it doesn't burn!).

Tip: Feel free to add some chopped chillies or chilli flakes to the chutney if you like a bit of extra spice

Sesame Chicken Rice & Broccoli

INGREDIENTS

- 100g Brown Rice
- 250g Broccoli
- 2 x 300g chicken breast fillet
- 25g Honey
- 25ml soy sauce
- 45ml water
- 5g cornstarch
- Ginger (to taste),
- 1 tbsp Sesame seeds

STEPS

1. Cook the brown rice according to the package instructions and set aside once ready.
2. Cut the broccoli into small, even florets. Bring a pot of water to the boil and cook the broccoli for 7-8 minutes, or until tender. Drain and set aside.
3. In a small bowl, prepare the sauce by combining honey, soy sauce, water, cornstarch, and freshly grated ginger. Mix well until smooth.
4. Dice the chicken breast fillets into small, bite-sized pieces. Heat a non-stick pan over medium heat and add a small amount of water. Cook the chicken, stirring occasionally, until fully cooked through and lightly browned.
5. Pour the sauce into the pan with the cooked chicken. Reduce the heat slightly and allow the mixture to simmer for about 10 minutes, stirring occasionally, until the sauce thickens and coats the chicken evenly.
6. To serve, plate the brown rice and broccoli, spoon the chicken and sauce over the top, and finish with a sprinkle of sesame seeds.

You can add crushed red pepper in the sauce for taste and spiciness!

Grilled Chicken Kebabs

INGREDIENTS

- 2 large skinless chicken breasts
- 2 tbsp olive oil
- 1 lemon, juiced
- 1-2 garlic cloves, minced
- 1 teaspoon paprika
- ½ teaspoon cumin
- ½ teaspoon dried oregano
- ½ tsp salt and pepper
- 1 large red onion
- 1 bell peppers

STEPS

1. Cut the chicken breasts into medium bite-sized pieces. Peel onion and cut into pieces. Cut bell pepper, remove seeds, and slice into pieces 2 inches square.
2. Combine the olive oil, lemon juice, garlic, paprika, cumin, dried oregano, salt and pepper. Add the chicken pieces to the mixture and mix well. Allow the chicken to marinate in the fridge for 30 minutes, or up to 8 hours.
3. Preheat the grill to medium-high heat.
4. Thread the chicken onto the skewers, with the vegetables in between the chicken kebabs.
5. Grill the chicken kebabs until fully cooked, about 10-15 minutes, turning the skewers every couple minutes to allow for even cooking.
6. Remove the chicken from the grill and serve.

Tip: Add other vegetables such as zucchini, mushrooms, aubergine, or squash.

- 2 tsp garlic powder
- 3 tsp smoked paprika
- 4 garlic cloves (minced)
- ½ lime juice
- 4 tbsp light soy sauce
- 3 tbsp honey
- 1 tbsp butter
- chilli flakes to taste

STEPS

1. Remove skin from salmon and cut into bite sized cubes.
2. Season with spices, lime juice and olive oil.
3. Airfry at 200°C for 8 minutes.
4. To make sauce, heat butter with garlic in pan gently for a couple of minutes.
5. Add light soy sauce, honey, and chilli flakes and increase heat to thicken sauce.
6. Add in salmon bites and give a good stir.

Tip: Serve with rice, sliced avocado and cucumber, edamame beans, sesame seeds, and spring onion

Dessert

Vegan Gajar Ka Halwa

INGREDIENTS

- 500g carrots (peeled and roughly chopped into chunks)
- 240ml almond or cashew milk
- 100g brown sugar
- 30g cashews (roughly chopped)
- 2 tbsp sunflower butter or coconut oil
- ½ tsp ground cardamom

STEPS

1. Place the carrot chunks in a microwave-safe bowl with 2 tablespoons of water. Cover and microwave on high for 4–5 minutes, or until just fork-tender. Drain any excess water.
2. Transfer the softened carrots to a blender or food processor. Pulse a few times for just a few seconds until they reach a coarse, minced texture. Watch carefully so they don't turn into a puree!
3. Heat the butter or coconut oil in a wide pan over medium heat. Add the minced carrots and sauté for 5 minutes until they deepen in colour and smell fragrant.
4. Pour in the almond or cashew milk. Cook for 8–10 minutes, stirring occasionally, until almost all the liquid has evaporated.
5. Stir in the brown sugar, cashews, and cardamom. Cook for another 3–5 minutes, stirring constantly. The halwa is done when the sugar melts, the mixture thickens and gets glossy, and it starts to pull away from the sides of the pan.

Tip: If you want to prepare this dessert the traditional way, grate the carrots instead of softening in microwave

Vegan Dubai Chocolate Cake

INGREDIENTS

- 200g dark chocolate
- 390ml milk
- 100g sugar
- 25g oil
- 45g flour
- 10g cocoa powder
- ½ tsp baking powder
- pinch of salt
- 60g white chocolate
- 60g toasted kataifi pastry
- 215g pistachio butter

STEPS

1. Preheat the oven to 180°C. Chop all chocolate into small pieces and keep separate.
2. For the cake, heat milk until simmering, pour over the chopped chocolate, and whisk until smooth. Add sugar, oil, and remaining ingredients, mixing until smooth. Pour into a cake pan and bake for about 20 minutes. Let the cake cool completely.
3. For the pistachio layer, melt the white chocolate in the microwave, stirring between each. Mix with pistachio butter and kataifi, then spread evenly over the cooled cake.
4. For the ganache, heat milk with sugar until simmering, then pour over chopped chocolate. Let sit for 1 minute, then blend until smooth. Cover with cling film and refrigerate for 2 hours.
5. Once the ganache is chilled, whip it with a mixer until it lightens in colour and becomes fluffy. Spread evenly over the pistachio layer.
6. Chill the assembled cake in the fridge for at least 2 hours to set. Before serving, let it come to room temperature.

Tip: You can make your own pistachio butter by blending a cup of pistachios until smooth

Chocolate Cottage Cheesecake

INGREDIENTS

- 60g jumbo oats
- 25g mixed nuts
- 20g smooth nut butter
- 12g maple syrup
- 6g extra virgin olive oil
- Pinch ground cinnamon
- 260g cottage cheese
- 24g maple syrup
- 30g Greek yoghurt
- 6g cacao powder
- 2ml vanilla extract
- Small pinch fine salt

STEPS

1. Start by making the granola base: place the oats and chopped nuts or seeds in a bowl. Warm the nut butter, maple syrup and olive oil gently in a saucepan or microwave until it loosens slightly. Pour this over the oats, add the cinnamon and salt, and mix well so everything is coated.
2. Spread the mixture onto a small baking tray and bake at 150°C for 15 minutes, stirring once halfway through, until lightly golden. Leave it to cool completely so it becomes crunchy.
3. To make the cheesecake layer, place the cottage cheese in a blender or food processor and blend until smooth. Add the maple syrup, Greek yoghurt, cacao powder and vanilla extract and blend again until the mixture is creamy and evenly mixed.
4. To assemble, spoon about 2 to 3 tablespoons of granola into the bottom of each jar. Top with the chocolate cheesecake mixture. Chill in the fridge for at least 30 minutes before eating.

Tip: Blend the cottage cheese well so the texture becomes smooth and creamy.

Spiced Apple & Orange Crumble

INGREDIENTS

- 120g plain flour
- 80g butter (cold/fridge temperature)
- 40g brown sugar
- ½ tsp mixed spice
- Finely grated zest of 1 orange
- Juice of 1 orange
- 2 cooking apples
- 25g sugar

STEPS

1. Preheat the oven to 180 °C.
2. Juice the orange and pour the juice into the bottom of the baking dish.
3. Peel and slice the apples, then place them evenly in the dish on top of the orange juice.
4. Sprinkle sugar over the apples.
5. In a mixing bowl, add the flour and butter. Rub the butter into the flour with your fingertips until it looks like breadcrumbs.
6. Stir in the brown sugar, mixed spice, and orange zest.
7. Sprinkle the crumble mixture evenly over the apples.
8. Place in the oven and bake for 25 minutes, until the crumble is golden brown and the apples are soft.
9. Remove from the oven and allow to cool slightly before serving.

Tip: Rub the butter into the flour lightly with your fingertips to keep the crumble mixture light and

Super Easy Froyo

INGREDIENTS

- 125g greek yoghurt
- 80g fruits of choice- strawberries, bluberries, banana
- 1 tsp honey
- chocolate, melted (optional)

STEPS

1. Add the yoghurt, fruits and honey into a freezer safe container.
2. Press a piece of parchment paper against the top of yoghurt to prevent crystals from forming. Freeze for at least 30 minutes or overnight.
3. To serve, add a drizzle of melted chocolate if desired. Allow the frozen yoghurt to sit at room temperature for a few minutes until soft enough to scoop. Enjoy!

- INGREDIENTS
- 125g unsalted butter or mashed avocado
 - 100g light brown sugar
 - 75g white granulated sugar
 - 1 large egg
 - 1 tsp vanilla essence
 - 300g plain flour
 - 3 tsp baking powder
 - ½ tsp sea salt
 - 300g chocolate

- STEPS
- Don't pre-heat oven yet! Beat the sugars and butter/ avocado in the bowl until creamy, using a hand-mixer/ whisk.
 - Crack egg into bowl and add the vanilla, also beating in with the mixer.
 - Beat in the flour, baking powder, and salt, first with the mixer/ whisk and then manually with hands.
 - Then using both the mixer/ whisk and hands again, gradually add in all of the chocolate.
 - Weigh 80g for each cookie onto a baking tray until all the mix is used up.
 - Place these in the fridge for 20-30 minutes and pre-heat oven to 180 degrees if fan assisted or 200 degrees if regular.
 - Bake the cookies for 12-14 minutes until golden brown, using a skewer to check if they are cooked through and leave to cool.

Tip: You can substitute avocado for the unsalted butter

Fruit & Veg Smoothie

INGREDIENTS

- 1 large banana
- 125g yoghurt
- 12-15 cherry tomatoes
- 3 capsicum peppers
- Half a head of broccoli
- 1 large handful of spinach
- 1-2 satsuma oranges
- 2-3 sticks of celery
- 1 lemon
- 500g of frozen berries

STEPS

1. Place everything into a big blender and mix.

Tip: if you're working with a smaller blender/smoothie maker, just divide the amounts in half

Berry Cottage Cheese Muffins

INGREDIENTS

- 18 dried pitted dates
- 2 tsp baking powder
- 1 tub fat free cottage cheese
- 3 large eggs
- 1 tsp vanilla extract
- 1 lemon, zest & juice
- Pinch of salt
- 180g porridge oats
- 1 punnet (250g) strawberries, sliced
- 1 punnet blueberries

STEPS

1. Preheat oven to 180°C (160°C fan). Line a 12-cup muffin tin and lightly spray.
2. Microwave dates with 4 tbsp boiling water (covered) for 1½ minutes. Stir in baking powder (it will foam).
3. Blend cottage cheese until smooth. Add baking powder, vanilla, lemon juice/zest, salt, and eggs; blend well.
4. Add date mixture and oats; pulse to combine. Add most strawberries and pulse briefly (keep slightly chunky). Fold in blueberries.
5. Divide batter into muffin cases and top with remaining strawberries.
6. Bake 30-35 mins until golden and set. Cool 5 mins, then transfer to a rack.

Tip: You can mix up the flavours and toppings; try swapping out the lemon zest, juice, strawberries and blueberries for: 3 peeled, cored, grated apples plus 1 tsp cinnamon for autumnal apple muffins; or 1/2 cup chocolate chips and 1/2 cup chopped pecans for chocolate nut muffins

Banana Bread Mug Cake

INGREDIENTS

- 1 very ripe banana
- 1 tablespoon oil
- 1 tablespoon almond
- 1 tablespoon brown sugar
- 3 tablespoons all-purpose flour
- Pinch of salt
- Pinch of ground cinnamon
- ½ teaspoon baking powder
- 1 tablespoon chocolate chips

STEPS

1. Mash the banana and then mix with the oil, milk and sugar in a wide mug. Whisk together for 30 seconds to combine completely.
2. Add in the flour, baking powder, salt and cinnamon. Make sure you stir the bottom of the cup too!
3. Add in the nuts and chocolate chips if using.
4. Place in your microwave for 1.5-2 minutes. Remove and let cool for few more minutes – it'll continue to cook while it cools so don't overcook it in the microwave.

Tip: Feel free to add your own extra toppings – chocolate chips are great, but nuts, seeds etc will provide additional nutrients

Sweeter Than your Sweetcorn

INGREDIENTS

- 1 cup of sweetcorn
- 1 tsp butter
- ½ lime, juiced
- ½ garlic clove, crushed
- 1/8 tsp cumin
- ½ tsp paprika
- ½ tsp onion powder
- ½ tsp chili powder
- salt & pepper
- Chopped cilantro

STEPS

1. If you have a leftover ear of corn on the cob, cut it off the cob and set aside.
2. Heat the saucepan to medium heat and add the butter.
3. Once melted, add the fresh crushed garlic and spices. Mix well to make the spicy butter sauce.
4. Add the fresh, canned, or frozen corn and saute for about 2-3 minutes making sure kernels heated through (note difference in cook time for each type of corn).
5. Turn the heat off and spoon the corn mixture into a serving bowl. Squeeze the lime juice and sprinkle some cilantro leaves on top and you are ready to serve.

Tip: for another variation, you could add some cajun shrimp for a quick nutritious salad!
