

15th and 16th January 2026

3rd EUT+ Language Conference

Exploring Multilingualism: Language, Technology and Cross-Cultural Connections

Conference Programme:

Day 1 (Thursday, 15th January)

09:00 - 09:30 Registration (Main Entrance Foyer, Aungier Street Access) & Coffee (Room AST5-032)

09:30 – 09:45 Room AST3-067/3-068: Welcome and Opening Addresses

Orla McDonagh (Dean of the Faculty of Arts and Humanities), Catherine Spencer (Language Studies Lead) and John O'Connor (Strategic Lead, European University of Technology Alliance)

09:45 – 10:45 Room AST3-067/3-068: Keynote speaker Ann Marie Devlin (University College Cork)

‘30 years of Study Abroad research: forging the discipline and shifting landscapes’

10:45 – 11:15 Room AST5-032: Coffee Break

11:30 – 13:30 Room AST3-100: Session 1A Chair: Odette Gabaudan

Ivaylo Peev, Elena Antonova and Radostina Veleva (Technical University of Sofia): ‘VR Technology as a Multilingual Tool for Overcoming Intercultural Barriers in Foreign Language Teaching’.

Margarita Ruiz Zaragoza and Camino Rea Rizzo (Universidad Politécnica de Cartagena): ‘Exploring the use of Pi (an AI-based app) to enhance communicative skills in ESP’.

Stefanie Morgret, Uta Hameister, Sven Appel, Andreas Fuchs and Paul Grimm (Hochschule Darmstadt): ‘DaF2L – The use of Deutsch Uni-Online (DUO) and Virtual Reality (VR) in teaching German as a foreign language - A field report about new teaching and learning approaches’.

Monica Varese (Independent scholar): ‘Translating Portuguese into Portuguese’. (ONLINE Presentation)

11:30 – 13:30 Room AST3-073: Session 1B Chair: María Victoria Soulé

Baiba Birzniece (Riga TU): ‘Intercultural Competence in the Educational Context: Teachers’ Experiences and Attitudes’.

Bruno Echauri-Galván (University of Alcalá) and María Gómez-Bedoya (University of Alcalá and University of East Anglia): ‘From SDGs to ABCs: Service-learning for English Language Acquisition and Soft-Skill Building’.

Mariya Todorova, Todor Todorov and Ivaylo Peev (TU Sofia): ‘Maximising Foreign Language Acquisition Through Developing Intercultural Awareness’.

Carola Maria Wide (Hanken School of Economics, Finland), Anna Michelotti (University of Mannheim, Germany), Helen Engemann (University of Mannheim, Germany), Anne-Marie O’Connell (Université Toulouse Capitole, France) and Helen Ruiz (Ramón Llull University, Barcelona, Spain): ‘Plurilingual Pathways: A COIL-Based Model for Intercultural Collaboration in Higher Education’.

13:30 – 14:30 Room AST5-032: Lunch and Photos

14:30 – 16:30 Room AST3-100: Session 2A Chair: Sonia Munteanu

Ailín Ní Chonchúir (Maynooth University): ‘Teachers in Irish-medium post-primary schools using crosslinguistic mediation as a way to deal sustainably with the role of English in the classroom’.

Michael Markey (University of Lille): ‘From Bilingual Bias to Plurilingual Practice: Overcoming Obstacles to Language Education in Irish Schools’.

Inmaculada Gómez Soler (Dublin City University): ‘Heritage languages and language-in-education policies: Insights from the Irish Educational System’.

Mireia Gómez i Martínez (University College Cork): ‘Céad Mile Fáilte Romhat! A qualitative analysis of Ireland’s approach to linguistic hospitality in school settings’.

14:30 – 16:30 Room AST3-073: Session 2B Chair: Jesús Urda

Pilar Molina (TU Dublin): ‘Multilingualism as Poetic Strategy in the Work of Agustín Fernández Mallo’.

Michael Kane (TU Dublin) ‘Multilingualism and ‘bad language’: James Joyce’s anti-authoritarian lessons for today’.

Stephen Lucek (University College Dublin) and Marion Schulte (University of Rostock): ‘Multilingualism in news discourse: A metaphors of migration approach to New to the Parish’

Théophile Munyangyeyo (Trinity College Dublin): ‘Intersecting cultural diplomacy and multipolarity in cultural hegemony shifts within the global south’.

16:30 – 17:30 Room AST3-100: Workshop for Staff

Neasa Ní Chiaráin and Anna Luczynski (Trinity College Dublin): ‘Speech technology for Language Learning: The Irish experience’.

17:30-19:30 Room AST1-077: Evening reception (food, wine and music)

Day 2 (Friday, 16th January)

09:30 – 10:00 Room AST5-032: Coffee

10:00 – 11:00 5th Floor corridor beside AST5-032: Poster Presentations

Hind Almuhawiss (Dublin City University): ‘Gender and Lexical choices in oral Najdi Arabic by Saudi University Students’.

Iziar Sarasola and Alicia Castillo Villanueva (Dublin City University): ‘International Students in Ireland: Understanding Acculturative Stress and Adaptation Through the ASSIS’.

11:00 – 13:00 Room AST3-100: Session 3A Chair: Pilar Molina

Angelina Radeva and Pavlina Zlateva (TU Sofia): ‘Multilingual Communication in a Technical Context’.

Odette Gabaudan and Susanna Nocchi (TU Dublin): ‘Investigating Generative AI in Language Education: Student Perspectives and Institutional Policy Contexts’.

Sonia C. Munteanu (UT CLUJ): ‘From Use to Understanding: Student Perceptions of AI-Assisted Homework in an English for Academic Purposes Course for Engineering Students’.

Jennifer Wood Prifysgol (Aberystwyth University): ‘Creative Approaches to Translation for Language Learning in the Age of AI’.

11:00 – 13:00 Room AST3-073: Session 3B Chair: Todor Todorov

María Victoria Soulé (University of Cyprus): ‘Perceptions of Multilingual Classroom Practices and Metalinguistic Awareness: A Case Study of Spanish Learners in Cyprus’.

María Belén Rabadán Vega (Idiomes UAB, Barcelona): ‘From Theory to Practice: Navigating Cultural Differences in Teaching Spanish to Chinese Students’.

Cristiane Soares (Harvard University) and Gláucia Silva (University of Massachusetts Dartmouth): “‘Like a sewing kit’: Perceptions of nonbinary learners of Portuguese”.

Sabine Kasten and Laura Gill (Darmstadt University of Applied Sciences): ‘From Arrival to Admission: Study Preparation for Prospective International Students’.

11:00 – 13:00 Room AST3-091: Session 3C Chair: Ivaylo Peev

Elisa Picón Curiel (Universitat Rovira i Virgili & Utrecht University): ‘Multilingual education policy (2nd and 3rd level in the Netherlands)’.

Gerard Cullen (TU Dresden): ‘Promoting English as a Medium of Instruction (EMI) at Armenian HEIs’.

Bettina Hermoso-Gómez and Sofia Martinho (University of Leeds): ‘Empowering Multilingual Communities Through Civic and Educational Engagement’.

13:00 – 14:00 Room AST5-032: Lunch and Photos

14:00 Room AST3-073: Closing speeches

