Part time study at TU Dublin

A flexible pathway to lifelong learning

Each year we enroll more than 3,000 students onto our part-time and continuing education courses. Many of these students are professionals already working in industry, undertaking part-time study to upskill and to further develop their career prospects. Other students will take a part-time course in order to achieve a personal goal in their lifelong learning, enrolling as mature students. Whatever stage you're at and wherever you want to go, TU Dublin will help you get there.

National Framework of Qualifications

TU Dublin offers a range of qualifications that are incorporated into the National Framework of Qualifications (NFQ). The NFQ is a 10-level system used to describe qualifications in the Irish education and training system and shows how General Education Awards, Further Education and Training and Higher Education Awards are mapped against the 10 levels of the framework.

The NFQ gives a structure that allows all education and training qualifications to be compared to each other. It allows individuals to identify how they can progress from one qualification to the next, in clearly defined steps.

CLASSES OF AWARD

- Major Awards: named in the outer rings, are the principal class of awards made at a level
  - Minor Awards: are for partial completion of the outcomes for a Major Award
  - Supplemental Awards: are for learning that is additional to a Major Award
  - Special Purpose Awards: are for relatively narrow or purpose-specific achievement
  - Professional Awards: are for occupation-orientated qualifications including apprenticeships

How to Apply?

Research your preferred course thoroughly before you apply, considering whether you meet the minimum entry requirements. Depending on the course, entry requirements, the application process, fees and closing dates vary and are detailed on each course page.

As the number of places on courses are limited we recommend that you apply early in order to ensure a place on the course of your choice. Places are allocated to qualifying candidates in order of receipt of completed applications.

Apply for your course by clicking on the 'Apply Now' link on the course webpage. The course search tool can be found at tudublin.ie/parttime.

Across a broad range of disciplines, TU Dublin offers flexible learning options to meet both your individual and professional needs. These include:

Higher Certificate

The Higher Certificate is typically a two-year course at Level 6. These courses provide students with the core fundamentals of their chosen subject and will serve as a pathway into employment, and a route into further study at degree level. Students with Higher Certificate awards have established themselves in key roles in local industries and many now work in multinationals located in Ireland. Some now manage their own businesses.

Bachelor Degree

The next step on the ladder of progression is the Bachelor Degree. A one-year add-on to the Higher Certificate takes the students' qualifications up to Level 7. This award certifies that you possess an extra layer of knowledge and proficiency in your chosen discipline and entitles you to apply or be promoted to jobs that require more expertise and some management skills.

Honours Bachelor Degree

On completion of your Level 7 qualification, you may decide to progress to the Level 8 Honours degree. This is normally completed within one year of additional study and it completes a student's undergraduate journey. An honours graduate has the potential for a wide range of employment/promotional opportunities at management level and will also have the requisite skills to progress on to Postgraduate study, should they wish to do so.

Honours Bachelor Degree (Direct Entry)

As well as these three routes of entry, we also offer a range of 'ab initio' (direct entry) Honours Bachelor Degree courses. These are completed in four years and are ideal for students who feel ready to commit themselves to an Honours course from day one.

Post Graduate Study

Due to an increasingly competitive and rapidly changing employment market, more Irish people than ever before are pursuing postgraduate courses. Graduates know that specialising at postgraduate level is a definite way to prepare for a job market that is continuously evolving. Postgraduate education will not only boost your earnings and employability potential but will also expose you to innovative ideas and fresh perspectives, which will be readily applicable to your chosen career.

Providing an industry-focused postgraduate curriculum in state-of-the-art facilities, we offer a broad range of full-time, part-time and conversion courses to suit your needs. See more at tudublin.ie/postgraduate.

Shorter Programmes

TU Dublin offers a variety of shorter programmes, relevant to those who wish to upskill in a specific area and for those who may not wish to commit to longer programmes. Details can be found on tudublin.ie.

Flexible Modular Learning

Our part-time programmes are delivered as a series of modules. A module is a discrete unit of learning. When individual modules are completed, you gain credits towards your award. All of the programmes offered by TU Dublin have gone through a consultation process with business and industry to ensure that the modules making up each programme are relevant and will give you the skills needed to be able to work successfully in that field. Some of our programmes offer the opportunity to pursue your own particular interests by allowing you to choose 'elective' modules to suit your needs.

Programme Delivery

Most part-time courses at TU Dublin run over two semesters in the academic year; September to January and February to May. This approach takes the pressure off students who do not like the idea of a single examination measuring the entire year's work.

Students will also be continuously assessed through course work and assignments as they complete their studies. Many courses will combine a mix of both online and on-campus learning, allowing the student to balance their studies with their real-life commitments.

A qualification from TU Dublin is one that will help you to grow academically, personally, and professionally. We look forward to welcoming you as you embark on your educational journey in 2023 and we invite you to discover our full range of part time courses at tudublin.ie/parttime.
